We are the Peace Centre

The Tim Parry Johnathan Ball Peace Foundation was set up after the IRA bombing of Warrington in 1993, which took the lives of Tim Parry aged 12, and Johnathan Ball aged 3. Out of that awful tragedy, something truly unique was created when we established the Peace Foundation, named in honour of the boys.

On March 20th, 2000, the 7th anniversary of the bombing, we opened our iconic Peace Centre, where so much of our vitally important work is carried out to help young people, victims of terrorism and communities in conflict. The Peace Centre is not only a permanent living memorial to the boys, but also a multi-purpose building with a range of facilities, including a games area, sports hall, residential quarters, our Hope Café, conference facilities and meeting rooms.

A Corporate Venue with a Twist

The Peace Centre operates as a fully serviced venue for corporate events, from small brainstorming sessions or breakout meetings, all the way up to conferences of 120 delegates.

We take enormous pride in our can-do and flexible attitude.

From the moment you make an enquiry to the time you leave, our professional and friendly team will go above and beyond to make sure your event runs like clockwork.

Whether it's supporting your technical needs or serving tea and coffee, rather than letting you fend for yourselves – we offer that personal touch that you may struggle to find at other corporate venues and hotels.

And the twist?

By using our venue, you'll be fulfilling your Corporate Social Responsibility, as all of the money we make goes back into the Peace Centre and therefore helps us continue our charitable work as the Peace Foundation.

"The Peace Centre is a professional and slick operation and well organised. The facilities are excellent with ample parking, great rooms and we had all we needed for the day"

James Millward, Wates Smartspace

Meeting Rooms from £15 an hour

Meeting Rooms

From £15 an hour

At the Peace Centre, we believe that having the right working environment is paramount to being creative and productive. Our award-winning venue houses three fantastic meeting rooms that are quiet and private, with lots of natural light to help you keep a clear head throughout your meeting.

We have a mix of both formal and informal spaces, so whether you need a boardroom setup, complete with visual equipment to present your end-of-year figures, or just some comfy sofas for a more relaxed chit-chat, we'll be more than able to accommodate your needs.
